VOL. 44, NO. 20

Around the Square

Henry Nuetzel sez that we wouldn't have a ball park on the old dump grounds if the Smog Control hadn't closed down the burning dump. Because Dr. Louis C. McCabe was director then, the smog public relations man suggests that it be named "Dr. McCabe Field."

George Kelly, the Mr. Tournament of Roses who periodically looks over Sierra Madre for fire dangers, believes in "wearin' o' the green." Even before St. Pat's day he had the green on display. Besides the wide green ribbon, he had in his hat band the green side of a dollar bill. "The green that really counts," he relates. He also had a letter from L. A.'s Mayor Fletcher Bowron regarding the Steinberger's oranges that Kelly had distributed as a gesture of good will to the city officials. "Best I've tasted in years," said the mayor about the famous Steinberger oranges.

It will be Sierra Madre day tomorrow under the vine. Just announce at the gate that you're from the home town, and you'll be the Vine's guest.

Keepers of the Vine, incidentally, are still watching to see just what effect 25 c. c.s. of plant hormones will do to the "world's largest." They were administered earlier in the season by George Warner the Pasadena plant expert. A similar dose brought out a sycamore in the Arcadia County Park long before the others this year.

The 1,800,000 automobiles in the county last year burned a billion gallons of gas—and no doubt contributed a little bit to the smog. The owners paid $60,000,000 in state gasoline taxes (at 6 cents a gallon), and the county got back $10,000,000 (or a cent on the gallon).

Sierra Madre also gets its kick-back for streets here—and several year's accumulation (more than $90,000) probably will be spent for street improvement this summer.

It might be pointed out that more than $17,000 of this amount came directly to Sierra Madre from the county from an "Aid to Cities" fund. The county gives it to the cities for particular streets in need of overhauling, but there's nothing in the law that requires the county to share its gas tax fund.

Lewis Will Head School Bond Drive

R. C. Lewis has accepted chairmanship of the campaign committee for Sierra Madre's $86,000 City School bond issue election scheduled for May 9.

Mr. Lewis, local Red Cross Chapter chairman and president of the Bank of Sierra Madre, will be assisted by Vice-Chairman Dr. Milton Valois, dentist.

Mrs. Edith T. Dane will aid the bond issue as chairman of the speakers' committee, and Mrs. Nettie Jacobs will be in charge of transportation and voting.

Executive committee members for the campaign, which would raise money for four classrooms on Auburn avenue adjacent to the City School, are Dr. Earl Gossard, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Rudolph R. Hartman, and Noren Eaton.

The four proposed classrooms would satisfy "immediate school needs only," according to School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt. "They would be fully occupied—down to the last seat—by the date of completion in September, 1951."

Large Crowd Expected at Open Forum Tuesday Night

A full house is expected at the City School Auditorium Tuesday evening, April 4, when Sierra Madre's most vital political meeting of the year is conducted.

The public forum, which begins at 8 p. m., will feature six-minute speeches by the eight candidates for City Council, a brief presentation of the $86,000 school bond issue of May 9, and a question and answer period for Council candidates.

The forum, which is being sponsored by many city organizations through the Coordinating Council, is intended as a public service to present the various candidates to Sierra Madre voters. It precedes by one week the municipal election on April 11 when voters will choose three of the eight to be their representatives.

John Conzelman, chairman of the Coordinating Council, will introduce the candidates and supervise the drawing of lots to determine order of speakers.

As the public files into the auditorium, slips of paper will be available for residents who want to ask questions. Written questions may be directed to specific candidates, or they may be addressed to the moderator, who will read them out loud for general comment from the speakers.

Mr. Conzelman pointed out, however, that no verbal questions would be acknowledged, and that where one issue is the subject of several questions, only one would be used. Questions written during the speeches will be collected after the last candidate has completed his six-minute talk.

The candidates previously had been presented with a list of problems which various city groups submitted for discussion.

Easter Week Play 'Camp' Starts Apr. 3

A program of supervised recreation will be conducted for school-age children of Sierra Madre daily during Easter vacation, April 3 to 7.

Sponsored jointly by the City Recreation Commission and the City School, the program will be available to pupils of all Sierra Madre schools Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

According to Samuel E. McElfresh, recreation director, both playground and indoor supervised play will be provided, and instruction in crafts available.

Planners Look at Street Sign Types

Sierra Madre may get some new street signs to guide wandering visitors and misplaced residents.

At least the Planning Commission last week looked at some street sign samples. Public Works Director Harry Shatto recommended black lettering on yellow background for greatest legibility.

"Just like auto license plates if the townspeople don't think it too radical—otherwise black on white."

Shatto was instructed to report on what streets needed them the most. Councilman Herman Barter had suggested that any recommendation the commission makes to the Council should include a breakdown of priority so that a long-term program of sign installation could be studied. Approximately 200 signs are needed. Cost for a sign and pole installed is $12, Shatto said. The sign alone, with the city furnishing the pole and installation, was placed at $2. Initial sign installations probably would include Sierra Madre boulevard, Baldwin, Michilinda and Orange Grove avenues.

Last Practice Monday For City Chorus

Next Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock, the Community Chorus, under the direction of Stewart Matter, will hold its final rehearsal of the "Seven Last Words of Christ," sacred cantata, at the Congregational Church, where the concert will be given for the general public on Good Friday evening, April 7, at 8:00.

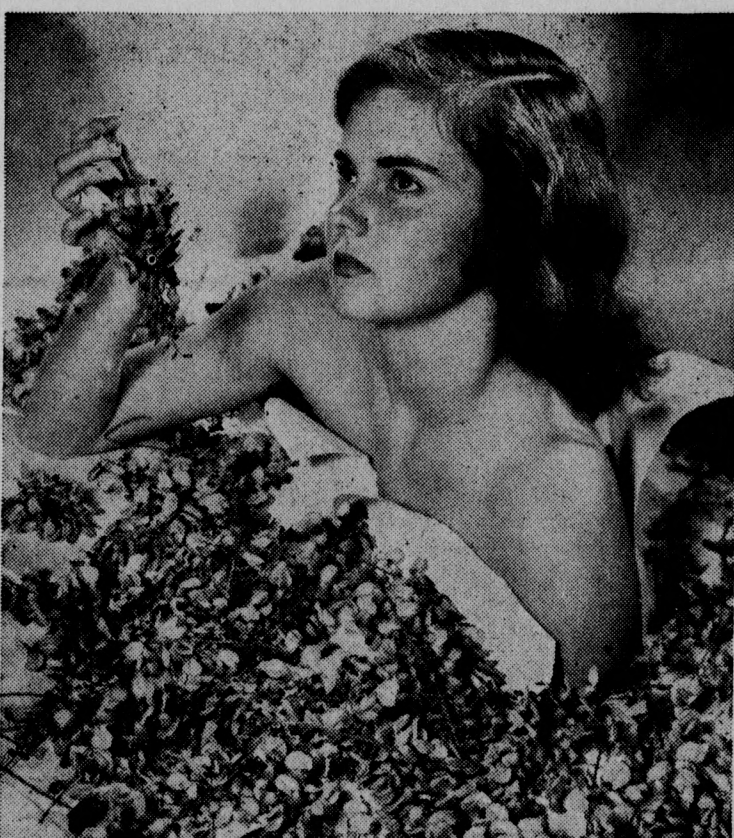

Featuring soloists, organ, and orchestra instruments the program also will include four selections by two Sierra Madre composers well-known in this community. Fuller details will appear in next week's issue of the NEWS.

Director Matter stressed the vital importance of the attendance of every member at this final rehearsal.

Firms Cancel Application For Annex

Application to the City Council for the annexation of the Upper Hastings Ranch was withdrawn this week at the request of the firms.

DIANE ARMSTRONG NAMED QUEEN

QUEEN OF WISTARIA

QUEEN OF THE SIERRA MADRE Wistaria Vine who will reign over the 1950 Wistaria Festival is 16-year-old Diane Armstrong. The Sierra Madre high school girl, who is shown here with Wistaria blossoms, was picked by a panel of judges representing the theater, the movies, and radio. The festival will continue through most of April while the world's largest Wistaria Vine is in bloom and open to the public.

BASEBALL GAME SUNDAY TO DEDICATE NEW FIELD

Semi-Pro Teams Clash; Mayor to Toss 1st Pitch

Two semi-pro hardball teams will "break in" Sierra Madre's new baseball diamond Sunday afternoon, April 2, when the ball park is dedicated by the local VFW Post.

The dedication and game will mark the first time in many years that Sierra Madre has had facilities for organized ball games.

Following appropriate dedicatory ceremonies conducted by the VFW, Mayor J. Milton Steinberger will officially start the game by delivering the first pitch. Festivities begin at 2 p. m.

Henry Nuetzel, City Councilman and spokesman for the VFW, said the bleachers and backstop will be ready for use on Sunday and invites all Sierra Madrenas to attend the game between a team from Azusa and the Pasadena Raiders.

Twenty members of the Post toiled all day Sunday, dragging and handraking the field in preparation for this Sunday's initial contest.

At its Tuesday night meeting the City Council accepted $750 from the VFW to help complete the ball field. Of this, $450 was raised by the group's February 25 dance, and the other $300 came from the VFW general fund.

The Council also accepted a $300 donation from the Lions Club for the ball park development, and Councilman William A. Kinney pointed out that another $175 had come from Kiwanis Club.

On motion of Mr. Kinney the council appropriated $350 for additional improvements necessary for the Sunday opening. Councilman Herman Barter said that this amount brought the city's expenditure on the ball field, including grading of the dump, to $1650.

The Council also authorized granting of a concession for sale of soft drinks and hot dogs at the ball park to the VFW to help meet costs of hard and soft ball games to be held there.

Gildersleeve Named Commission Chairman

W. W. Gildersleeve, a member of the Planning Commission for approximately a year, last week was named chairman of the commission.

Members also voted to retain Mrs. May de Wright as vice-chairman.

Gildersleeve succeeds Bayard Bigelow who earlier this month was appointed to the city Library Board. On motion of Mrs. de Wright, the Commission voted to send a letter of appreciation to Bigelow for his "fine chairmanship."

Harold Bartel New Nursery School Chief

At a board of directors meeting last week, Harold Bartel was elected 1950 president of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Association. He succeeds George Parr as president.

Trinity Presbyterians Dedicate Building Site

Dedicatory services of the building site for Trinity Presbyterian Church were conducted Sunday morning, March 26, by the Rev. Clarence H. Shackelford, pastor.

Construction on the new church, to be located just outside the city limits on West Sierra Madre boulevard, is expected to begin "very soon."

Plans for the contemporary design structure are nearly completed and will be presented to the congregation for approval within the next month, the Rev. Shackelford said.

The building site of 2½ acres is at the proposed intersection of Sierra Madre boulevard and Hastings Ranch Drive.

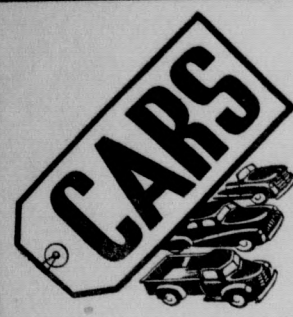

Dedication ceremonies were held as a part of the regular Sunday morning worship service. Trinity Presbyterian Church members assembled first at their regular meeting place in the Masonic Temple, heard an abbreviated message from their pastor, then journeyed as a group to the building site.

Sunday was also a key day in the life of the church for another reason. It marked the second anniversary of the church's existence. The Rev. Shackelford said it was by pure chance that these two important dates in their history should fall on the same day.

Building Committee of the Trinity Presbyterian Church includes C. E. Lewis, William Vensel, William Schmidt, Mrs. W. R. Brown, and Herman Scholtz.

Improved Street Lighting Proposed by Edison Co.

Improved lighting for Sierra Madre streets was recommended in a report prepared by Southern California Edison Company which is being studied by the City Council this week.

For Sierra Madre boulevard, the Edison Company recommends a total of 103 street lights. The boulevard, at present, has only 62 street lights.

The report proposes 11 projects for the betterment of the city's lighting, which in some areas would increase visibility as high as 20 times.

According to C. O. Wedberg, district manager, the report is broken down to suggested plans so the Council can put into action any, all, or as many of the projects as is desirable.

There are no separate installation costs for the projects—except in the business district where three alternate plans are proposed, depending on which type of fixture is wanted by the city.

In the heart of the business district, 34 6000 lumen ornamental lights are suggested substitutions for the existing 35 street and overhead lights of 1000, 2500, and 4000 lumens. (A lumen is a unit measurement of light, 100 watts being comparable to 1,580 lumens.)

Total cost per month for the lights in this area would be $75.86. Present cost per month is $41.57.

Twenty-one lights were suggested for Sierra Madre boulevard between Auburn and Lima. This area, which now has only seven lights, is described in the report as "next in importance" in considering Sierra Madre's future growth.

"Some day," it was pointed out, "business will spread sufficiently into this area to have the same density and volume of traffic, parking problems, and pedestrians as the present 'center' of town."

Total cost per month of the proposed Lima-Auburn lights would be $73.29, or $89.04 for steel poles. Existing lights now cost the city $14.80 a month.

Additional lighting also was indicated for the remainder of the boulevard—from both the eastern and western boundaries.

Fifteen 6000—and one 2500 lumen lights were proposed substitutions for 15 existing lights of lesser brilliance on north and south Baldwin. Increase in cost per month for this area would be $32.57.

For Grandview and the central residential districts, the 189 lights currently in use would become 278 brighter lights, at an additional per month cost of $406.29. Existing lights cost $242.21.

A dozen streets listed as "new residential districts not now having lights" were earmarked for immediate attention in the report. Cost of installing 33 2500 lumen lights was estimated at $99.48.

Instead of 43 600 lumen lights, the canyon and mountain areas of Sierra Madre would get 51 1000 lumen street lights. Hike in cost: $29.09 a month.

In summary, the Edison Company pointed out that its plan was a "balanced plan," one which balances the need with the economics of each specific project.

"Usually, there are only two legal sources of city funds for a program of this type: the general fund, and special assessments for this specific purpose."

Existing street lighting equipment in Sierra Madre has been in service more than 20 years—a fact which makes it "old, inefficient, and obsolete." It has not kept pace with the city itself or other improvements in it, the report stated.

The City Council on Mar. 14 thanked the company for the survey report and said it would take it under advisement.

PORTER TWINS HEAD STUDENT BODY HERE

Twins—a brother and a sister—scored an upset victory in Sierra Madre Grammar School student body election last week when each came out with a majority of votes for the two leading offices.

Other new officers are Mary Berghardt, Secretary and Mike Forester, Treasurer.

A musical program, under the direction of Mrs. Nora Graham, will be presented by pupils from the classrooms of Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. McElfresh and Miss Newton.

Mr. Van West, former resident of Sierra Madre who last year reconditioned the 24 paintings for Dr. Kalmus, will present the slides and explain the history of the paintings.

Dr. Kalmus, president of Technicolor Inc., purchased the collection of 16th and 17th century baroque ecclesiastical paintings while on a visit to Germany in 1938. The paintings had been owned by two Jewish-German brothers who were forced to sell during their attempts to escape Hitler's persecution.

The Arts Guild meets in the "Brick Oven," 28 Windsor Lane.

Cubs Plan Trip to Model Train Show

At a Cub Scout Committee meeting next Wednesday, April 5, final plans will be made for an excursion the following evening (Thursday) to a model train exhibit in Hawthorne.

This exhibit, considered one of the finest, contains over 15 miles of scale track complete with switches, miniature stations, etc.

The Cub Committee meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush, 633 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Friendship Club Will View Slides

Colored slides of a 2½-months' tour along the Alaskan Highway and Northern area, will feature the Monday, April 3, meeting of the Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club.

Mrs. Edmund W. Lawrence, 227 W. Orange Grove, will present the program, showing pictures she and her husband took last summer during their northern tour.

The meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the Parkhouse. Tea will be served.

Mrs. Alice Sedgman, president of the Friendship Club, said this would be the first time the club has been able to see pictures. Funds to purchase curtains so that the room could be darkened were received last fall during the "Village Fair" sale conducted by women of the club.

Mrs. Frank Holloway and Mrs. Edward Hume sewed the curtains, Mrs. Sedgman said.

The president also announced this week that several groups within the club are showing continual growth. Madam Bertha Babin's sewing group, for example, meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Persons interested in joining this group should contact Madame Babin.

Speaker Tells of County's Interest in Water Project

Proof that Los Angeles County is keeping a "close watch" on Sierra Madre's water diversion project was indicated last Thursday noon by Brig. Gen. Wayne R. Allen, the county's chief administrative officer.

Speaking before the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Woman's Clubhouse, County Manager Allen told Chamber members and guests that outcome of the project would be a factor in who will operate the proposed Eaton Canyon County Park and Golf Course—Los Angeles County or the city of Pasadena.

"If the county can purchase water from Sierra Madre for the park, it will be operated by the county," he said. "Otherwise, Pasadena will supply the water and operate it."

Concerning the gigantic park project itself, General Allen explained that talk was first started concerning a regional park back in 1924, and the actual planning began in 1946.

"Development of the project is still uncertain in many respects," the army officer pointed out, "but the portion above New York Drive probably will become a 'virgin park,' having hiking and riding trails."

"That part of it would be a kind of 'second Griffith Park,'" he said.

Returning to the subject of water, the administrator declared that the people of Los Angeles County have always "been asleep" as regards conservation of water.

He singled out Sierra Madre as an exception, however, saying that this city—largely through the efforts of Al S. Myers, former business manager, constructed spreading grounds.

"The Board of Supervisors, through the state legislature, currently is trying to establish 'conservation districts' throughout Los Angeles County, whereby water would be purified and retained in underground basins instead of being allowed to run off into the ocean."

"At present," General Allen said, "billions of gallons of water are flushed into the sea—and lost forever."

Citing some of the instances where the county is helping various citizens, County Manager Allen said the county paid one half the cost of the "Burbank Experiment" in incineration.

"In this experiment, Burbank ruled that all rubbish had to be picked up by the city, and that there was to be no private burning in back yards."

Labeling outdoor incineration as a "definite cause of smog," he stated that the board of Supervisors is convinced that backyard incinerators eventually must be eliminated.

"This must be done through cooperation of the county, of course, since very few cities could afford the cost of such a project (erecting a city-operated incinerator)."

General Allen was introduced by Arthur Hewitt, editor of the NEWS, Chamber President Al E. Morgan presided.

Margaret Cash Sells

6 Floral Paintings

Six floral paintings by Sierra Madre artist, Margaret Cash, were recently purchased by a Chicago company, and lithographs of them are reportedly available at most department stores.

This is the first work ever sold for lithographing by Mrs. Cash and the paintings are of: Datura-Trumpet Flower, Pink Hibiscus, Golden Hibiscus, Gay Succulent, and two magnolia prints.

F. HOLMES NOTES 86th BIRTHDAY

Fred Holmes celebrated his 86th birthday Friday, March 24, and the only thing that could have made his celebration any better than it was anyway would have been his attendance at the new Post Office square dance.

But, as he put it, "I didn't feel quite young enough to go."

Otherwise, Mr. Holmes said "his day" was a complete success.

Originally from Bloomington, Illinois, Mr. Holmes has lived in the Los Angeles area for 28 years—19 of which were spent as a resident of Sierra Madre.

Before retiring, he had been associated with a Los Angeles manufacturing agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes live at 271 N. Lima with their son, Fred Holmes Jr. A daughter, Mrs. John Webster, resides on Mariposa.

Fifth City Scout Troop Is Formed

Formation of a new Boy Scout troop in Sierra Madre was announced last week by Richard Lees, District Committee publicity chairman.

The new troop, designated Troop 5, will be sponsored by Bethany Church.

Following a committee meeting last week, Bob Galbraith was announced Scoutmaster of the new unit; LeRoy Limbaugh was named Assistant Scoutmaster.

Institutional Representative for the troop will be Cy Felner, Glenn Maxwell is committee chairman. Mr. Lees also announced a partially-completed list of Troop 5 committee members:

Bill Spargur, Jack Hailey, Graham Patterson, and Henry Peronelli.

200 Attend Dedication of Post Office

More than 200 Sierra Madreans braved rain and wind to welcome the city's new Post Office Friday night and to be on hand for the dedication and dancing.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Sterling T. Ripple, who introduced officials and dignitaries on the program.

Opening ceremonies included an invocation by the Rev. Carl Smith, pastor of the Congregational Church; singing of the National Anthem by Donald Thayer; pledge to the flag by Col. Walter D. Thurber; and presentation of colors by various Scouting and military organizations.

Brief welcoming talks were presented by Postmaster Eddie D. Roberson, Lee Shippey, Mayor J. Milton Steinberger, Ray Short, U. S. Postal Inspector, Contractor Harold Spears, and the heads of several civic and military organizations.

Square Dancing followed the dedicatory program, featuring the "calling" of Homer Alt-house. The original Cactus Twisters demonstrated various square dance steps during one of the intermissions.

Ballroom dancing music also was provided by Allen Robertson and his four-piece band. Allen is the son of Sierra Madre's Postmaster.

Cider was furnished by the Kiwanis Club and kept cold by ice furnished by Harold Roberts. Flowers for the occasion were presented by Arnold's Hardware, Carl Hansen, Mr. Roberts, and the Sierra Madre Hardware.

City to Oil, Grade Part Of Laurel

Residents of Laurel between Lima and Hermosa won't have dust and chuck holes to contend with in the future.

The City Council this week authorized the grading and oiling of the street. But it won't for streetbe paved. A petition asking for street improvements was signed by 14 residents and presented to the Council.

Willard S. Boedecker of 214 Adams, told the Council that the street, used by school buses was a safety hazard. He said it hadn't been oiled for 10 or 15 years.

The Council also received a letter from T. R. Stetson of 639 Woodland drive asking that the city carry through with the proposal that a dog catcher service be provided again.

He pointed out that dogs have become a nuisance in his neighborhood. His complaint, he said, was not against dogs but against "dog lovers who want pets but won't accept responsibility of seeing that they don't become a nuisance to others." The letter was referred to committee.

A letter from Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, secretary of the Woman's Club, asking again for installation of a crosswalk in front of the clubhouse, was referred to the Chief of Police.

Councilman Henry Korsemeier said that the whole matter should be restudied now that the post office has moved to that end of Sierra Madre boulevard.

The Council authorized the return of a $3 water meter deposit to Mrs. Mabel Munson water meter installed after who decided she didn't want a making the payment.

Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan was authorized to pay officers overtime at regular pay rates for directing traffic on Sundays during the Wistaria Festival, a measure considered necessary to prevent accidents and traffic jams.

The Council held over for study a report from City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn on the California Water and Telephone rate case before the State Public Utilities Commission.

Cornyn said that the commission has scheduled a hearing for May 24. In November of 1947 an interim increase was allowed the telephone company and this hearing would be to make the rate boosts permanent. To oppose such an order, Cornyn said, expert testimony as to inadequacy of service would have to be presented.

In 1947, he said, it was proposed that a telephone rate expert be hired at $2500 to present testimony. This cost would have been shared by Sierra Madre, Monrovia and San Fernando with Sierra Madre paying two-ninths of the cost.

"You have to have something tangible to offer the commission," Cornyn said. "I may think the rates too high, but that means nothing without evidence to prove that rates are too high."

Cornyn said he would ask Arcadia council member if they wished to join in protest.

The Council authorized signing of a contract with the Board of Supervisors and the School Board under which the county would pay $840 for this year's expanded recreation program here.

The Council adjourned until 9 p. m. tonight (Thursday) at which time it will accept bids for two new trucks and study budget requirements for the balance of the fiscal year.

LEWIS WILL

The classrooms, with separate laboratory facilities for boys and girls, would cost $50,000. A garage, offering room for two school busses, would cost $3500.

Two acres of land adjoining the present school site would cost $20,300.

Mr. Skutt pointed out that equipping the four rooms would cost $4000, the necessary furnishings for each room including 32 universal desks, a teacher's desk, an auxiliary table, and a bookcase.

Building fees, including state, architectural, and inspectors', would total $8200. Present bonded indebtedness on the school is $72,000, Mr. Skutt said.

Average home-owner in Sierra Madre, one having a home assessed at $2000, would pay additional school taxes of $250 per year for eight years, the amount decreasing then until it was completely paid off in 17 years.

A complete breakdown of the bond will be presented at the April 4 public forum in the School auditorium. School Board Chairman E. Waldo Ward will outline the plans, and the architect will be on hand to answer questions.

HJORDIS K. PARKER

Because of the international understanding furthered by Mrs. Parker's past film lectures and educational films, Norwegian governmental agencies have indicated that every assistance will be given to help her obtain realistic and authentic pictures.

Mrs. Parker said the film will feature the people of Norway as they are, rather than just show museums, statues, and historical places that so many other travelogues emphasize.

The pictures will show how Norwegians live, work, and play, where the children go to school, and what their main interests are. It will be a "behind the scenes" view of Norway.

Since she speaks the Norwegian language fluently, Mrs. Parker will be able to work and live with the people, fitting into true-life situations where outsiders would not be permitted.

On her tour, she will travel from the southern to the northern tip of Norway, part of the time being spent in the "land of the midnight sun" within the Arctic circle.

In Lapland, Mrs. Parker will become a nomad, wandering with the Lapps whose very existence is dependent on their principal "industry"—reindeer. American summer students at the University of Oslo will be filmed with their Norwegian classmates, and Norwegian ski jumping champions are to be included in the picture.

Mrs. Parker will return to the United States in July, sailing on the Norwegian passenger liner, "Oslofjord." The feature-length film lecture will be ready for release in this country.

J. Priestly Play Opens

J. B. Priestly's latest play, "Home is Tomorrow," is offered by Pasadena Playhouse from Friday, March 31, through Sunday, April 9, as its contribution to International Theater Month.

With this presentation, the Playhouse joins with theaters throughout the nation and possessions in a special project which is under the joint sponsorship of the U. S. National Commission for UNESCO and the American National Theater and Academy.

Triangles come in pairs—one of individuals and the other of nations—in the Priestly drama which spans the events leading up to a native uprising on a mythical island governed by a fictitious UN agency. Gilmor Brown directs the large cast.

HARRY H. SHATTOS MOVE TO CITY

The Harry H. Shattos moved to Sierra Madre March 13 and will make their home at 115 Esperanza. Mr. Shatto is the new city engineer and director of public works.

Formerly residents of Hermosa Beach "the Shattos" include Mr. and Mrs., their 3-month-old son, John, and "Waffles," cocker spaniel.

Local Men Attend Camp

Twelve Sierra Madre men took part in a recent weekend overnight camping trip at Camp Huntington.

The local Scouters who recently completed the Basic Scouters' Course, were a part of some 90 adults from neighboring cities participating in the camp, during which outdoor phases of Scout training were studied and practiced.

Certificates noting satisfactory completion of the course will be presented at the April Court of Honor, at which time men who have attended the University of Scouting will also receive their certificates.

TO SANTA BARBARA

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush of 633 W. Sierra Madre boulevard plan to vacation this weekend at Santa Barbara.

AUTO CLUB'S TRIP OF THE WEEK

Scenic Riverside County

A leisurely journey through scenic Western Riverside County can be both enlightening and enjoyable at this time of year if one takes the time to inspect a few of the many attractions. The scenery is contrastingly picturesque and those who are planning to attend Easter services at Mt. Rubidoux or the Ramona Pageant at Hemet this month might conveniently include this particular course in their itinerary.

Plan at least a short stay in Riverside. In an hour or two, one may visit the famed Mission Inn (top photo), home of one of the world's finest collections of antiques, curios and relics, see the Peace Tower and Father Serra Cross (lower photo) at Mt. Rubidoux and drive down scenic Magnolia and Victoria Avenue, noting the famed Parent Navel Orange Tree at Magnolia and Arlington Avenues.

The route between Sunnymead and Elsinore passes many famous mineral hot spring resorts. Hemet and San Jacinto are situated in the center of the Indian country where artists of ancient races have left rock paintings and carvings on boulders in the canyons. This area is now an important peach and apricot growing center.

Center photo shows portion of Ramona Bowl, scene of the annual Ramona Pageant, in which local ranchers, merchants, judges, bankers and other leading citizens don greasepaint to reenact thrilling episodes from Helen Hunt Jackson's famed novel, "Ramona." The pageant this year is to be presented April 22-23, 29-30, and May 6-7.

Lake Elsinore is the largest body of natural fresh water in Southern California. The resort town of Elsinore is located on the northern shores of the lake. Water sports, boating, and speedboat regattas are popular the year round and duck hunting in season.

Corona, formerly called South Riverside, is surrounded by a circular boulevard. Around 1913 this track served as the setting for the famous old Corona Road Races in which Barney Oldfield, Ralph De Palma and other racing greats participated. Corona is now an important citrus center.

5 Churches To Cooperate In Services

Five Protestant churches of Sierra Madre will join forces for a community Good Friday service of worship, scheduled for one hour, 12:30 to 1:30 at the Congregational Church on April 7.

All Sierra Madreans are invited to the service, which will be conducted by ministers of the participating churches. Dr. Clarence W. Kerr, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian Church, will be special guest speaker.

Professor Earle Anderson, Baritone soloist, will sing the negro spiritual, "Were You

There When They Crucified My Lord?"

The Chamber of Commerce last week indicated its official support by passing a resolution urging businessmen to close their shops for that hour, and to attend the joint service.

Keeping this in mind, Sierra Madre ministers have promised that the service will be strictly limited to the one hour.

Churches presenting the Good Friday worship are Congregational, Bethany, Baptist, Nazarene, and Presbyterian.

body paid any attention to, was a hardship, then maybe it should be changed.

This was followed up on Tuesday when the Council, on the Planning Commission's recommendation, ordered an ordinance prepared which would change the sideline for unattached garages from five to three feet. Garages attached to homes will still call for a five-foot sideline.

The Planning Commission on Thursday took action to officially rap the knuckles of Charles Walker who last year was granted permission to subdivide his property on Lima street between Manzanita and Ramona into four lots.

However, the commission announced that Walker had actually subdivided into five, lots that are now up for subdivision into 12 lots by others who have bought the property. On advice of City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn the commission voted to notify the State Real Estate Board of what it termed "an apparent violation of the State Subdivision Act."

The commission also:

1. Denied the petition of Mrs. Oscar Paegel who sought a rezoning of R-1 property at the southwest corner of Sierra Madre boulevard and Park avenue so that she could build a second house on her lot.

2. Set April 27 and May 25 for hearings on the Bethany Church petition for a zone change on an adjacent lot so that it could be used for church activities and expansion of the existing building. The change would be from R-2 to R-3.

3. Told J. S. Caton that the 33-acre Vogel estate north of Grandview on Foothill avenue, now in an R-1 zone, could not be rezoned for development into an institution for "light mental patients." The Commission pointed out that the city's zoning ordinances does not allow hospitals for any type of mental cases.

4. Asked E. J. Calvert to submit a plot plan in connection with his proposal to build two houses on a lot at West Grandview and Grove avenues.

5. Allowed John B. Baird to split his 100-foot lot at 451 W. Grandview avenue into two 50-foot lots.

Your family physician is the one person qualified to tell you when you need drugs such as this. Consult him. Then, if he gives you a prescription, we shall be happy to fill it for you.

first, and second grades will take part in circle games and other activities on the kindergarten playground; older children of grades 3, 4, 5, and 6 will enjoy the facilities of the other playground. Both active and "quiet" games are planned.

The craft program, scheduled for each morning from 9 to 11:15, will include clay modeling, drawing, and painting. Supervised play also will continue through the morning hours, Mr. McElfresh said. Children are asked to bring their own lunches if they plan to stay all day. Milk may be purchased at 7 cents a bottle.
